

ULSTER WINS BY DEFECTION OF THE ARMY

Fate of Irish Home Rule Now Uncertain, I State Historical and Natural History Society Leader.

MOVIE PROVES A FIASCO

Labor Press Bitter Against Surrender of Government to Ulsterites

LONDON, March 23.—The defection of the army officers who refused to serve in Ulster is now a closed incident, but its consequences are likely to prove far reaching. Premier Asquith and Colonel Seeley, secretary of state for war, made explanations before an excited and turbulent house today that the affair was the result of a misunderstanding.

The misunderstanding, it was inferred, although they did not directly say so, was due to misconstruction of the government's plans. The commanding general, Sir Arthur Paget, whereby he informed the officers in Ireland that they were to move on Ulster for a repressive campaign. General Paget and three senior officers from the Curragh camp, General Gough, Colonel McKewen and Colonel Parker, were summoned to London for a conference. According to official statements, the misunderstanding has been cleared away and these officers returned to Ireland tonight. Prior to their departure they said they were entirely satisfied with the results of their visit.

Government Surrenders. Terms on which the officers, again with their posts were not dissatisfied, but the general belief is that they were assured that they would not be compelled to fight against the Ulster men. This is considered a distinct surrender by the government.

Lord North of Blackburn explained in the house of lords tonight that he believed in the integrity of the officers, but that they were not to be trusted in the public mind. He approved the advice to the officers to return.

The part the king played in the crisis has not been disclosed. Army officers address their resignations to his majesty and the report is that the king insisted that the resignations in the present instance should not be accepted, and used his influence with the cabinet for a compromise with the army.

Movement Proves Fiasco. The Unionists firmly believe that the government has participated in a fiasco. They think that the two most enterprising spirits of the cabinet, David Lloyd-George and Winston Spencer Churchill, were the chief movers in the plan and that the government proposed a wholesale movement of troops into Ulster to overcome the covenanters by the display of superior force and the arrest of their leaders, and that the plan was frustrated only by the opposition of the officers.

ONLY FEW MEN REMAIN LOYAL CITY OF BELFAST STILL IS QUIET

Officials resign in reference to Participating in Anti-Ulster Campaign

BELFAST, March 23.—Reports received by the officials of the provisional government would seem to indicate that at least 70 per cent of the officers of the 1st and 2nd battalions of the Ulster Volunteers are now quartered in Ulster, ready to serve in a campaign against the province.

Maj Gen Sir F. N. MacCreedy, of the adjutant general's staff of the war office arrived today for the purpose of explaining the situation so as to prevent the resignation of the officers. He was informed that nearly all the officers of the Norfolk regiment, quartered at Holywood barracks, four miles from Belfast, had expressed their readiness to resign rather than accept orders to take part in an anti-Ulster campaign.

Many Remain Loyal. It is said that among those remaining loyal are officers whose sympathies are with Ulster, but who cannot afford to sacrifice their pay. The same applies to many other officers of the various regiments now in Ulster. The Dorsetshire tomorrow will give General MacCreedy their decision at Holywood. (Continued on Page Three)

BANK PAYS ALL WHO ASK FUNDS DENVER CONCERN MADE VICTIM OF RUN

Will Open for Business This Morning Same as Usual; Has Plenty Money

DENVER, March 23.—With $900,000 cash in the bank's vaults and all securities still undeposited, the German-American Trust company will open its doors at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning to meet the fourth day of an inexplicable run upon its deposits, according to Godfrey Schirmer, president of the bank. Nor has any of the preferred help from the Denver Clearing House association and other institutions been accepted as yet by the bank.

The run began Friday and continued to grow through Saturday. At the opening of the bank today, a line of several hundred persons stood waiting to withdraw their accounts—savings accounts for the most part. Each demand was promptly met and the waiting depositors were accommodated as rapidly as their checks could be handled.

All Given Their Money. The line continued full until the close of banking hours, when many left their posts of waiting. Only a few stragglers remained. These were served even after the bank was supposed to have closed.

Tonight Mr. Schirmer issued the following statement: "We will be ready for our depositors in the morning, as usual, either to cash their checks or to accept their deposits. We still have $900,000 cash on hand and all of our securities. We have not had to avail ourselves of the kind offers of assistance from other financial institutions, and shall not."

"Of course we have no way of knowing whether the line will form again in the morning, and the run continue, and while we naturally regret the unfortunate instance, we will be amply prepared to meet any emergency."

Only Praise for Depositors. "I have my suspicions as to how the run started, and shortly will have them supported by the proofs. I want to comment upon the extremely good nature of the people who took part in the run. None accused me of anything and there was no demonstration against the bank. In fact, the run was a very quiet affair. The depositors were very polite and very patient. I am sure that the bank will be able to meet the run tomorrow morning."

"Approximately $900,000 was withdrawn today, and about $100,000 was received in deposits. And I want to say that those who had the nerve to make deposits in face of that long line of depositors waiting for their money were heroes."

Cause of the Run. According to Mr. Schirmer, the present situation arose through the circulation of "rumors concerning the bank's financial condition by enemies." The Denver Clearing House association, through C. Mitchell, its president, today issued the following statement: "Owing to current rumors relating to the condition of the German-American Trust company of this city, the Denver Clearing House association, after inquiring into the affairs of the said trust company, is satisfied of its solvency, and the Denver Clearing House association is prepared to meet any demands that may be made upon it."

"The German-American Trust company is absolutely sound," was the statement at the office of the state bank examiner's office. A statement of the German-American Trust company, issued March 23, gave total deposits of $4,673,147.35 and resources, including cash, loans and bond investments aggregating $5,189,000.67.

ROOSEVELT SAFE IN BRAZILIAN JUNGLES; NOT WITH FIALA PARTY

No Fears Entertained for Safety of Colonel, but Anxiety Is Felt for Success of Expedition; Few of Specimens May Be Safe

NEW YORK, March 24 (Tuesday).—Theodore Roosevelt was not with the section of his exploring party headed by Anthony Fiala whose equipment was lost in a river rapids in Brazil. According to a dispatch received from Fiala by the New York Times and published today, Fiala reported that the Roosevelt party in good health was exploring the Dulvata river (the river of doubt) and was expected to reach Manaus early in April.

Fiala's dispatch was dated from Santarem, Brazil, and relieved the anxiety of the Roosevelt family and others here, as no definite word has been received previously regarding Colonel Roosevelt and the other members of the expedition.

UNDERWOOD TO FIRE OPENING GUN THURSDAY

Fight on Repeal of Canal Tolls Act Will Begin Last of Week

WILSON URGES EARLY VOTE

Murdock Says Plan Will Be Defeated if 40 Hours of Debate Allowed

WASHINGTON, March 23.—President Wilson asserted today that in seeking the repeal of the Panama canal tolls exemption he not only was asking that the nation do that which it was bound in honor to do, but was going the way of the majority in the Democratic party. He pointed out that when the Panama canal act was passed, a majority of the Democrats then in the house voted against the tolls exemption, and that only by a coalition of a minority of Democrats with a number of Republicans did the measure become a law.

"This announcement was taken in administration circles as the president's answer to the argument that the Baltimore platform made the tolls exemption Democratic doctrine. The president is understood to believe that the majority opinion of the Democrats in the house, as last expressed, was a result of more deliberate consideration of the question than was possible at the Baltimore convention."

President Urges Early Vote

The president made no secret to callers of his anxiety for the repeal measure to come to a vote. Asked if he thought influences were at work to prolong debate unnecessarily, Mr. Wilson said it certainly appeared to him as if there had been filibustering; that minorities always filibustered and discredited themselves in filibusters. The president is confident he will have the majority of his party behind him in the house when the repeal measure comes to a vote. He has been supported by many Republicans, Senator Jett of Kentucky, has intimated the president the vote in the senate would be at least 55 to 24, in favor of the repeal.

There seemed little prospect tonight of getting the repeal bill before the house until late in the week. Debate on the rivers and harbors appropriation bill is dragging, with no prospect of immediate conclusion. Today the apparent effort of members to prolong discussion of trivial matters brought constant references by champions of the toll exemption repeal to filibustering tactics.

Underwood Speaks Thursday. No attempt will be made to report a rule that would limit debate on the repeal bill to 15 hours until the measure has been called up, and this probably cannot be done until Thursday, when Majority Leader Underwood is scheduled to make the opening speech in opposition to the repeal. Representative Murdock, the Progressive leader, urged today that if the house would limit the repeal discussion to 40 instead of 15 hours, sentiment on the toll issue would be so shifted that the vote would result in "America's way instead of England's."

Several suggestions of "gag" rules were made, but Minority Leader Mann declared that while he had heard it (Continued on Page Two)

TROOPS CALLED IN BUFFALO RIOT

Four Men Are Shot, One Being Fatally Wounded; Strikers Out Arms

STRIKE AT COULD GO. IS SERIOUS

BUFFALO, N. Y. March 23.—The Seventy-fourth regiment was ordered out for strike duty at 11 o'clock tonight after two serious riots at the plant of the Gould Coupler company within the last 24 hours. One company was sent to Depew at midnight for guard duty.

The riotous scenes today which resulted in the shooting of four men, one of them fatally, and the injury of many others, were the first serious disturbances since the strike began at the Depew shops eight weeks ago.

Up to a late hour tonight Sheriff F. C. Becker hoped to be able to handle the situation, but when word came of the second shooting which resulted in the wounding of Thomas Fogarty of Syracuse, a special deputy, Attorney Frederick C. Sles, for the company made a formal demand on the sheriff for military protection.

Strikers Not Arms. It was stated tonight that the strikers at Depew had received a large shipment of arms and that an attempt would be made to get possession of the guns and ammunition tomorrow. Stanislaus Skolonski, claimed by his friends to be an innocent bystander, was shot in the head during the first and most serious trouble early in the day when a mob of 300 men held up a train bearing workmen to the plant and fought a half hour's pitched battle with deputies. He died tonight. The only other person known to be seriously wounded is Antonio Sparrino of Buffalo, who was stabbed in the chest.

The first outbreak occurred when a Lackawanna train of 11 coaches, bearing about 300 workmen, was with- (Continued on Page Two)

OPERATORS BLAMED FOR STRIKE TROUBLES

John Mitchell and Representative McDonald Appear Before the House

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Plans for concluding the investigation of conditions in the Michigan strike district were made today by the subcommittee of the house mines committee. The committee held during the day John Mitchell, labor leader, and Representative McDonald, who represents the affected district in congress.

The Calumet and Hecla Mining company, through its attorney, James A. Emery, was requested to furnish data of the financial conduct and history of the company, and the committee decided to close the hearing as soon as Quincy A. Shaw, president of the Calumet and Hecla company, can be called and questioned as to the attitude of the company toward organized labor.

Mitchell Defends Union. Mr. Mitchell told the committee there was no connection between the Western Federation of Miners, which organized the Michigan strike, and the Socialist party, or the Industrial Workers of the World. He defended the federation, declaring that it was affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and that it lived up to its contracts with employers.

Representative MacDonald asserted the trouble in the Michigan copper field was due to the "autocratic control" exercised by the mine operators. He said so long as the operators exercised this control, "benevolently," because of the large income afforded by the mines all went well, but as soon as the operators began to economize and cut down costs, their arbitrary power aroused discontent among the workmen.

Both Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Mitchell urged legislation to prevent the importation of armed guards into strike districts, and to prevent strikebreakers from being deceived as to conditions in a strike field to which they might be taken.

DURHAM, N.C., HAS MILLION FIRE LOSS

DURHAM, N. C. March 24 (Tuesday).—Fire in the business section which began late last night had up to midnight caused a loss of more than half a million dollars and the flames continued to spread. The fire originated on the second floor of the Brodie L. Duke building.

AGED STRIKE LEADER AGAIN UNDER ARREST

"Mother" Jones Is Arrested by Military Authorities at Walsenburg

BEING HELD INCOMMUNICADO

Gov. Ammons Says Prisoner Will Be Held Until She Agrees to Leave State

WALSLEBURG, March 23.—In a little room in the basement of the Huertano county court house, used as a city jail and also as a hospital for city and county prisoners, "Mother" Mary Jones, noted strike leader, is tonight being held incommunicado upon orders of Adjutant General John Chase, while officials and leaders of the United Mine Workers of America are making every effort to induce the military authorities to transfer the aged woman to other quarters.

A formal protest against holding the aged woman in a place which they declare is unsanitary, damp and poorly heated, was made late today by John R. Lawson, John McLennan, John Brown and Paul Paulson who visited Colonel Verdecburg at military headquarters.

Admit Quarters Bad. Colonel Verdecburg agreed with the union leaders that the place was not as comfortable as the quarters occupied by "Mother" Jones during the two months she was a military prisoner in Trinidad, but maintained the hospital ward was the best obtainable in Walsenburg. The officials of the United Mine Workers asked that the prisoner be transferred to a local hotel. Colonel Verdecburg declined to permit her to be taken to the place suggested because the headquarters of the miners' union is in the same building.

It was in this hotel that Mrs. Adolph Gerner was held prisoner by the military authorities for a short time early in the strike. "Colonel Verdecburg expressed a willingness to transfer his 'mother' to a local hotel, but he declined to order her taken to hotel or private home over the protest of the owner."

No Demonstrations Occur. Following the conference the union leaders made further efforts to find a place in Walsenburg to which the military authorities would agree to transfer the woman who is frankly determined to establish the alleged unconstitutionality of the Moyer decision.

Curious crowds lined the sidewalks all day about the court house. News that "Mother" Jones was a prisoner here brought throngs of strikers into town, but no demonstrations occurred. A single electric light, glowing through the basement window at the northeast corner of the building, was pointed out as the cell occupied by the aged leader.

No confirmation of reports that "Mother" Jones will be taken away from here at once can be secured at military headquarters. "I am ordered to hold her until notified further," declared Colonel Verdecburg. "General Chase is expected here tomorrow."

John Lawson and John McLennan returned to Trinidad tonight. Gen. Chase En Route. DENVER, March 23.—Adjutant General John Chase said tonight that "Mother" Jones, arrested at Walsenburg, is being held incommunicado. (Continued on Page Two)

STREET AND MORGAN HERE TO GET SOME IMPRESSIONS

Collier's Men Writing "Abroad at Home" Articles; Will Visit Several Points of Interest in Region

Julian Street and Wallace Morgan, illustrators who are preparing a series of articles on first-hand impressions of American life as it is lived, reached Colorado Springs late last night. Street and Morgan are writing the articles for Collier's Weekly to be known as "Abroad at Home," which will later be collected in book form.

The magazine men will spend today and probably tomorrow in the Pikes Peak region getting views of the scenic attractions and of the various resorts in this vicinity. Representatives of the Chamber of Commerce will accompany the men today and several automobile trips will be provided. The Garden of the Gods, Seven Falls, several of the sanatoriums and the majority of the points of interest that can be reached at this time of the year will be visited.

MEXICAN ARMIES NOW ARE LOCKED IN DEATH GRAPPLE ON PLAINS AROUND TORREON

Villa Plunges Ahead Under Grilling Fire From Federal Batteries Located on Mountain Slopes; Losses Are Heavy on Both Sides, Hundreds Being Brought From Front to General Hospitals

EL VERJEL, Mexico, March 23.—(11 p. m.)

Fighting of the most sanguinary character occurred in the streets of Gomez Palacio tonight. The rebels took the water tank on Cerro de la Pila, the Brittingham Soap factory and the arsenal. At this hour, the battle is reported still to be in progress. Steamers of wounded are being brought to the field hospital here and as fast as possible are being sent back to the general hospital at Benemerito. Losses on both sides are reported heavy, but General Villa says the town is now practically his.

JUAREZ, Mexico, March 23.—It was reported at 11 o'clock tonight that General Velasco came out of Torreon in force and that Gomez Palacio was being made the point of main contention. Villa was said to have captured 300 prisoners. His wounded, it was also reported, were being brought back from the front to El Verjel in large numbers.

MEXICO CITY, March 23.—The war office announced tonight that the federal forces are holding their own in the fighting around Torreon, but refused to give out details.

Attack on Torreon Opens. EL VERJEL, Durango, Mex., March 23.—The real attack on Torreon began today when General Villa occupied Lerdo, practically without resistance, and at 1 o'clock this afternoon began an attack on Gomez Palacio. The three towns are practically one, in a commercial and social sense, and are connected by four miles of street railway, but Torreon proper represents the military stronghold where the main federal force is gathered under General Velasco.

Gomez Palacio and Lerdo are, although important national defense, and in previous revolutions have never been seriously defended. The rebel force of strength is expected to come soon when Villa hurls his force against the elaborate defenses of Torreon. On the battle, it is conceded hinges the fate of the revolution.

Villa Confident of Victory. The mountain Cerro de la Pila is to the right of the street car road tracks, which connect the Palacio with Torreon. Villa has a strong position here, and a large portion of the rebel force is gathered here. General Villa says, upon the fact that he would take Gomez Palacio tonight. His confidence is based on the fact that the mountain is usually defended merely for the purpose of inflicting what damage is possible before retreating. Otherwise the position is such that the defending force could be cut off by a superior enemy.

Attacks F. Arm Batteries. The advance on Gomez Palacio began from this point which is only two or three miles from Gomez Palacio. The action was preceded by a furious cannonading directed at the federal batteries. In their infantry supports on the mountain slopes. When rebel officers with field glasses observed that the federals were shifting their positions their own infantry was set in motion across the plains in the direction of the mountains.

It is reported that other troops are approaching Torreon in other directions for last week Villa drove in the federal outposts from all points of the compass, and made the way clear for his own attack by taking Matamoros, Brittingham Junction and a number of other towns.

Whole Valley Fortified. Once Gomez Palacio and the mountain is taken the rebel troops may move through a valley following the street car line to Torreon until the very gates of that city are reached. It is (Continued on Page Two)

PINCHOT CONDEMNNS 'RADIUM LOBBY' AS A MISERLY POLICY

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Gifford Pinchot, president of the National Conservation association, in a statement tonight assailed the "radium lobby" and the men "who are preventing the relief of human misery by withholding congressional legislation to conserve and regulate the production of radium from public lands."

Mr. Pinchot also attacked the senate committee amendments to the pending Walsh bill. "During the two months that have elapsed since the joint resolution on this subject was introduced, the statement said, 'not less than 500 additional claims have been located by private persons, so that their content of radium—the only medical remedy for cancer—may be exploited for private profit instead of being used for the public good.'"

Mr. Pinchot condemned particularly committee amendments to the Walsh bill under which the secretary of the interior would be required to pay the "market price" for radium ore produced from leased public lands, the government would lose its right to purchase the ore of a claim if it failed to accept or tendered at a railroad station by the issue of that claim, and the law would not apply to land not known to be valuable for radium at the time the claim for it was located.

Of the 45 rebels only 21 reached the Texas bank. Several were killed in the water, their bodies floating downstream. There was no further trouble and it was said later that the additional troops were ordered to Del Rio because of the expected battle tomorrow. A force of about 50 rebels was reported advancing from the southwest to Las Vacas where the federal command is stationed. A rebel company that has been encamped opposite Langley, Tex., when it moved down the river toward Las Vacas.

The war department stands squarely behind Brigadier General Bliss, commanding the United States forces at this point in his determination to inflict prompt punishment upon Mexicans of any faction who willfully cross the line and endanger American life and property.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL SOUTH

At the Methodist Episcopal church, South, yesterday morning the pastor, the Rev. R. Ira Barnett, preached on the theme, "Will Ye Also Go Away?" Dr. Barnett said in part:

"Jesus' ministry can be very properly divided into three parts: the year of preparation, the year of popularity, and the year of opposition. The latter part of the sixth chapter of John gives the record of the turning of the masses of the people against him. The Sadducees rejected him from the outset of his ministry. The Pharisees soon joined in the persecution. After his rejection of the crown, following his multiplying of the loaves and fishes for the people would have made him king at this time—he exposed the shallowness of the people's admiration for him, whereupon 'many of his disciples went back and walked no more with him.' This was one of the sadder moments of the sad life of the 'Man of sorrows.' Looking upon the receding throng, and then into the faces of his more loyal disciples, he asked: 'Will ye also go away?' These are words of melting pathos.

"Christ longed for sympathy. He ever maintained a habit of self-forgetfulness—he lived out the purpose to which he testified. 'I came not to minister and to give my life a ransom for many.' He washed his disciples' feet but showed no consciousness of neglect himself; he himself sorrowed unto death but tenderly and unselfishly exhorted his followers. 'Let no man love his life but let him follow me.' When we find a break in this habit of Jesus we are provoked to thorough consideration of the cause. Jesus still yearns for our love, and the question should come searching into our hearts: 'Will ye also go away?'

Jesus was rejected by most of the men of wealth and political power of his day, the Sadducees and the Pharisees. How few of the wealthy of our day are sincere and devout disciples of Christ. I rejoice that some are; but oh, what would it mean for the worldwide conquest of mankind for Christ if the rich as a class would accept the leadership of Jesus Christ? I thank God for the increasing number of men and women in public life who are boldly standing as witnesses for him, but what a world we would have if the political life of our world were permeated by the spirit and controlled by the principles of Christianity!

These classes of Christ's time ignored him until they came to fear that the security of their privileged positions was threatened by the popularity of his ministry; then they made themselves busy in opposition to him. Just a few years ago that gigantic organized force of iniquity in our nation, the liquor traffic, passed over with scornful contempt all the protests raised by conscientious agitators against its ill-gotten gains and active corruption of local and national politics; but, that the antiliqueur forces are waxing mighty and effective today they are serious in their counter-opposition.

Jesus was early rejected by the leaders of the church of his day. We, as Christians and as leaders of the church should ever practice the severe self-criticism of our religious motives and affections, to make sure that love of ritual and forms of worship do not displace in our lives the saving love of Christ and the holy unselfish gospel he preached.

Christ was finally rejected by the multitude of his day. It is no criterion in matters religious, that you are with the majority. "Enter ye in at the straight gate, for wide is the gate that leads to destruction, and many there be that go in thereat; and straight is the gate and narrow is the way that leadeth to eternal life and few there be that find it." Simply because the world says, "There is no harm in it," is no good ground for your adopting any particular course of conduct.

Eleven of the 12 did not "go away." They did not stay as close to the Saviour as they ought all the way through; but they really loved him and followed after him after a fashion to the end. (Have you ever attempted to realize fully what a long path the Saviour trod among men?) These 11 were not perfect men. Far from it. Peter at this time was often thinking of the home and bounty he had left behind, and James and John were clamoring for the highest places in their anticipated temporal kingdom. But these 11 and a few others really loved Jesus better than any ambitions they cherished in connection with him.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

TAKE A TABLESPOONFUL OF SALT IF BACK HURTS OR HEADACHE BOthers

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in uric acid, to no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder trouble.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and does not injure; makes a delightful after-dinner drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

Prospects for Big Crops This Year Are Very Bright

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Prospects for big crops this year are particularly bright at this time as the result of the almost continuous succession of snow storms over the country. In the opinion expressed today by officials of the department of agriculture, the longer the snow blanket lingers the more frequently it is replenished they declare, the more grows the assurance of gigantic crops of corn and wheat, better vegetables, more stock feed and lower prices.

During February and March general snow storms have been more frequent than for years, it was said.

"If this snow blanket will only take its time in departing," said Dr. A. J. Bonebrake of the bureau of soils, department of agriculture today, "we will have a better crop start this year than for several seasons. To date conditions could be hardly more ideal."

"In the corn belt where there was considerable depletion of the crop through too persistent drought last season, the snow will prove of incalculable benefit. The corn belt ought to have a splendid start. Snow is a splendid insurance against drought, not complete, of course, but immediately valuable."

Coroner's Jury Is Unable to fix the St. Louis Fire Blame

ST. LOUIS, March 23.—The coroner's jury that investigated the death of 30 persons in the Missouri Athletic club fire two weeks ago, could not fix the blame for the disaster, it reported today. The responsibility cannot be fixed, the jury reported, because the city ordinances do not provide for the regulation of buildings used for club purposes.

The jury recommended that satisfactory building laws be passed.

Whether the fire started from a cigarette thrown among the draperies of the dining room, or from defective electric wires, the jury could not determine. The jury reported that the following conditions prevailed at the building:

The fire escapes were inadequate. Wooden doors led to the inclosed fire escapes from various floors.

Doors at the entrances of elevators had been removed, reducing the efficiency of the elevators in case of fire.

The only stairway in the building was of wood.

The building was of improper construction for sleeping purposes.

Villa Says Government Must Continue to Be Military for Time Being

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, March 23.—A proposition to hold an election for officers of the state of Chihuahua recently was put to General Villa by a delegation of citizens but the general declared that until the revolution is over the government must be military.

"Any election which was held now would necessarily be a military election, which is one of the very things we are fighting against," General Villa replied.

Outside the activities of a few impractical idealists as they are generally characterized by the public for the present is indifferent as to the form of government that will come after the revolution although its success is expected.

Meanwhile General Villa's word is law. He is the legislative, executive and judicial departments of government rolled into one and he likes it. When in this city he lives in a palace confiscated from an exiled aristocrat. He wears a wide brimmed soft hat and a blanket like any peon except that it is of rich texture.

The high the low and the middle justice are his. Beggars come to him for alms or permission to solicit them on the street. Does a cook want a job, a citizen wish to recover stolen spoons, or a mine owner wish to move $100,000 worth of supplies to his property it is all the same. Villa decides.

CHARGES OF THEFT FILED AGAINST DR. CAMERON

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., March 23.—Information charging theft of a diamond valued at $350 was filed in the district court today against Rev. Edward C. Cameron, an Oxford graduate, and for several months pastor of the Baptist church at Palladino, Colo. Cameron disappeared several days ago leaving behind authorities a number of worthless checks.

Later a second information charging theft of $450 by a forged check on the Palladino National bank was filed against Cameron.

PERCEVAL REPORTS ON BENTON'S DEATH

Scottishman Was Stepped to Death in Villa's Office,
Accepted Relief

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Inquiry into the death of W. B. Benton, a British subject, five weeks ago in Juarez, directed by the British foreign office, were concluded today. The results were laid before the British ambassador here for transmission to London. This investigation was conducted by C. E. S. Perceval, the British consul at Galveston.

Originally ordered to El Paso to cooperate with the commission appointed by Secretary Bryan to inquire into the Benton case, Mr. Perceval, finding the American commission was helpless to act as the result of the refusal of the rebel leaders to allow them to exhume and examine the British body, conducted an investigation of his own. Much of the evidence was collected in secret because of the fear of the witnesses of punishment at the hands of the Constitutionalists' leaders.

Disregarded Wife's Advice.

From the incomplete evidence that he was able to obtain, Consul Perceval reports that Benton, disregarding the advice and appeals of his wife, proceeded to Villa's headquarters with the double purpose of protesting against the spoliation of his ranch and to secure the privilege of marketing his cattle in the United States.

The testimony quoted by the consul makes it appear that Benton was unarmed when he entered Juarez and sought Villa's office; that there was a scuffle followed by perfect quiet; no witnesses could be found who heard the sound of a shot; Benton did not emerge from that office alive, but where and when his body was removed, the report does not disclose.

The consul drew the inference that Benton had been killed by a knife and that his body had been secretly removed and interred in the immediate neighborhood, though there was no direct testimony adduced to sustain this inference.

The substance of this report will be communicated to Secretary Bryan and the report itself will be transmitted to the British foreign office. According to the British view, nothing further can be done in the case at this stage. The report of the Carranza commission, appointed to investigate the Benton killing, is awaited with much interest and will be received by the British government as information, at least.

No immediate action is expected at the British embassy as a result of the report, but it was recalled today that Sir Edward Grey in his last statement to the house of commons upon the Benton case made it plain that there must be a heavy reckoning for the killing of a British subject and that the debtor would be the future permanent government of Mexico.

Juliet Breitung, Banker's Daughter, Married Gardener

NEW YORK, March 23.—Miss Juliet Breitung, daughter of Edward N. Breitung, president of E. N. Breitung & Co., bankers, was married last November to Max Kleist, a gardener, who was employed on an estate adjoining the Breitung family home in Manhattan, Mich., according to a statement authorized today by Mr. Breitung.

The formal announcement was made after the repeated inquiries to Mrs. Breitung and her daughter during the last few days had brought forth no confirmation of published stories that a clergyman in this city had filed with the bureau of licenses an affidavit that such a marriage had taken place.

Young Kleist, it is said, went to work in an Arizona silver mine after the wedding. He is 23 years old, four years the senior of his wife. The statement, signed by Mr. Breitung, follows: "I am advised that on the 22nd day of November, 1913, at Grace church, in New York city, my daughter, Miss Juliet Breitung, went through a marriage ceremony, as appears from the record of the church and immediately thereafter returned to our home at the St. Regis hotel, where she has since lived and where she desires to continue to live."

British Columbia Labor Leaders Get Prison Sentences

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 23.—The official close of the Nanaimo riot in the mines came today at New Westminster when 24 miners from Extension, Nanaimo and Cumberland, who had been convicted of rioting and unlawful assembling, marched down the street from the provincial jail to the court house. Among them and manacled were Joe Angelo, the Italian international organizer of the United Mine Workers of America, and Ben Dominick, another union official. J. W. Place, member of the legislature of British Columbia, also walked in the procession.

Justice Morrison imposed varying term sentences of imprisonment on some and released others on suspended sentences. Some he set free, the terms they have already served in jail standing as their sentences. Joe Angelo, who had been found guilty on six counts for his share in the riots of last August, was the first man asked to stand.

"I am not guilty of the charges— and I have a wife and four children," he said.

Counsel for the prisoner besought clemency on the ground that he was an alien and a married man. He said that he had been brought to British Columbia as an interpreter for the people including his fellow countrymen.

Many Recoveries From Lung Trouble

A medicine for Throat and Lung Troubles which has been thoroughly tested for many years and which has been instrumental in restoring confidence in health to a large number of sufferers, should be thoroughly investigated by everyone. While no undue claims are made for it, nor any guarantee that its use will restore health, Eckman's Alternative has been given the full credit in saving lives in many cases. Read this case.

Wilmington, Del.
"Gentlemen—In January 1908, I was taken with hemorrhages of the lungs. My physician, one of the leading practitioners of Wilmington, Del. said that it was lung trouble. I took eggs and milk in quantities but I got very weak. Mr. C. A. Lippincott, of Lippincott & Co., Department Store, 306 to 314 Market street, Wilmington, Del., recommended to me Eckman's Alternative that had done great good, and upon his suggestion I began taking it at once. This was about June 1908. I continued faithfully, using no other remedy, and finally noticed the clearing of my lungs. I now have no trouble with my lungs. I firmly believe Eckman's Alternative saved my life."
(Affidavit) JAS. ROGERS

Eckman's Alternative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Contains no narcotic, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Sold by leading druggists. Write the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa. for booklet telling of recoveries and additional evidence.

highest officers in Ireland are saying "By Saturday there will be hundreds of dead in Ulster."

The Unionists also accuse the government of making a scrapheap of General Paget for its own "colossal blunder."

Future of Home Rule Uncertain.

The future of the home rule bill is wrapped in clouds. No declarations of "full steam ahead" or "meeting force with force" were heard from the Liberals in the debate in the house of commons today. None of the fire and firmness which permeated the speeches of the ministers only last week was in evidence. The army has checkmated the government, according to the Unionists' view, and the covenanter of Ulster have won their fight.

No one will be surprised if the government soon relinquishes armed force, as its action had the immediate result of striking a shower of sparks of class jealousies.

Liberal newspapers of high standing and influence, like the Daily Chronicle and the Daily News, printed bitter denunciations of the officers as part of the Tory aristocracy which insists upon the prerogative of ruling the country against the will of the people, and demand the democratization of the army and that the system of officering it from the sons of the rich be superseded by a system whereby officers may be promoted from the ranks.

Labor Press Bitter.

The labor papers are equally bitter and demand to know why privates should not have the same privilege of refusing to fire upon workmen when called upon to repress strike riots.

"What about the strikers?" was the shout with which the labor members tried to drown Mr. Bonar Law's defense of the rights of the officers to refuse to obey orders against their consciences.

Confidences of high officers with the king continued today. Sporadic resignations of officers were announced, including those of several of the volunteer forces.

At the Carlton club, which is a Conservative stronghold, it was asserted that the first lord of the admiralty, Mr. Churchill, on Friday ordered the third battleship squadron to Belfast, with the object of landing marines and that Admiral Bailey replied that the squadron was not in condition to go to sea.

to join the union, and that anything he had done had been a legitimate endeavor to better conditions.

"You are a very brave officer and there are very few extenuating circumstances," said the judge in sentencing Angelo to four years imprisonment. Dominick's sentence was one year. Place was released.

FERRIS TOOK TOO MUCH INTEREST IN MOYER INDICTMENT

HOUGHTON, Mich., March 23.—Charges that Governor Woodbridge N. Ferris of Michigan, influenced the Houghton county grand jury before that body assembled to consider the copper mine strike cases, were made in one of the pleas of abatement filed today with Circuit Judge O'Brien by counsel for Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, and 37 other officers and members of that organization under indictment for conspiracy.

Judge O'Brien earlier in the day had denied a motion to quash the indictments.

The six pleas of abatement follow:

"That Governor Ferris attended the grand jury session without legal authority and by his presence intimidated the grand jury into bringing the indictment."

"That Governor Ferris communicated his wishes by letters to members of the grand jury just before they assembled."

"That Special Prosecutor Nichols attended the grand jury sessions without authority and only to influence the jury to bring indictments."

"That Special Prosecutor Nichols was not appointed by the court to act as prosecutor before the grand jury."

"That Attorney General Fellows attended the sessions without authority and coerced the jury to bring the indictments and, therefore, they were not the free expression of the jury."

Special Prosecutor Nichols is preparing answers to the pleas filed today and will present them April 6 at the opening of the April term of court.

Mr. Nichols said that if the pleas of abatement were overruled at that time, he would take steps to bring Moyer and the men indicted with him back for trial.

ONLY FEW MEN REMAIN LOYAL

It is understood that the percentage of refusals to serve among the Dorsets is even higher than among the Norfolks. Most of the battalions in the province held caucuses yesterday showing a preponderance of sympathy among the officers for Ulster.

Officials Elated.

The provisional government officials were enthusiastic over what they considered a crushing defeat of the imperial government, but continue their active preparations for war at the behest of Sir Edward Carson, who declares that he will continue to take such action until assured that the danger has passed.

Sir Edward Carson is still at Craigavon which is surrounded by sentries.

He received today a number of battalion commanders of his army and sent long dispatches to his lieutenants in London. He says he will not leave Belfast until the crisis is over.

Volunteers patrolled the streets today having first received instructions from the commanders to deal promptly with any of their own men acting in a disorderly manner, and to give the police assistance in any such case.

The city is quiet, but great interest was displayed in the parliamentary statements by the crowds, which remained around the bulletin boards of the newspapers most of the night, awaiting details of the situation in regard to the army.

Sir Edward Carson, commenting upon the parliamentary debate, said tonight:

"Hour by hour I am becoming more impressed with the government's message of peace to Ulster."

Sir Edward today received a suffragette deputation and informed the women that he was unable to act for any special treatment to the suffragettes of Ulster as he had never approved of the suffragettes' movement.
